

1. Modification of the surface of natural and/or synthetic polymeric materials and relevant chemical, morphological, and functional characterization techniques
2. Gas sensors: describe working principles and an illustrative application
3. Nanostructured metal catalysts for water electrolysis applications
4. Solid adsorbents for gas separations: principles and applications
5. Polymer recycling of plastic waste: methods and applications